That the Dutch steamer Rembrandt would arrive some time this afternoon from the Orient was stated in a wireless received by her local agency, C. Brewer & Company, Ltd., from the vessel.

The Rembrandt is believed to have on board about 200 German diplomats, consuls and consular officials from China, who had to leave when China severed diplomatic relations with Germany. The Rembrandt was due to dock at Pier 7.

At noon officials of the U. S. Immigration station said they could give out no information as to what measures have been decided on by them to guard the Germans while the Rembrandt is in port taking bunkers.

The German from all the refugees German merchant vessels in port and the crew of the O. J. D. Ahlers from Hilo are in detention at the Immigration station today and seem quite contented with their lot. The German vessel is still at their old berth, the Pomern and others at the side of Pier 7, and the others at the railroad wharf.

KAHUKU CLAIMS ANOTHER VICTIM

The undertow at Kahuku added another victim to its already long list yesterday afternoon and nearly got another when Pvt. Hubert H. Milan, C Troop, 4th Cavalry, was swept out to sea and battered to death on the reef and Sgt. Joseph Kruetz of the same troop was saved from a similar fate only by the prompt action of his commander, Capt. Robert R. Love.

Milan and Kruetz went in swimming early in the afternoon. After swimming around for a time in shore they started toward the breakers and were carried out to sea. Milan was carried out to sea and Kruetz was carried out to sea.

Milan sank very soon but Kruetz managed to catch a plank thrown into the sea by his comrades on shore. In the meantime Capt. Love at the Marine wireless plant was notified of the accident and hurried to the beach where he immediately plunged into the sea with a line, but was unable to reach the drowning man. For two and a half hours the desperate struggle continued before Kruetz could be reached and dragged to the shore not injured, but bruised by the terrible pounding which he had endured.

A campain from Hialewa was sent to the scene but it took it could arrive Kruetz had been rescued. Milan's body has not yet been found.

At the hospital at Schofield Barracks Kruetz is reported doing well and will recover from his terrible experience.

SOUTHERN CROSS AGAIN APPEARS

Persons who wish to follow the constellation known as the Southern Cross, now beginning to shine again in the heavens in the earlier hours of the night, will be interested in the following table and description prepared by E. H. Bryan of the astronomy class of the College of Hawaii.

"The Southern Cross will be directly south at the times given below, but may be seen to the southeast about two hours earlier if the observer is well situated."

"April 15 at 10:45, April 22 at 10:17, April 29 at 9:50, May 1 at 9:42, May 8 at 9:15, May 15 at 8:47, May 22 at 8:20 and May 29 at 7:52."

To Find the Southern Cross. "Even the most casual star gazer is familiar with the bright star Sirius, visible about 8 o'clock in the southern sky, and following close at the heels of Orion, Sirius is unmistakable, being the brightest star in the sky. Using it as a base and waiting until two hours before the time indicated above for the star to cross the meridian, then following about the same level as Sirius look across to where the trapezium of Corvus—a group of bright stars nearly in the form of a square—is just rising in the eastern sky. A short distance directly south of this one will see two bright stars fairly close together. Directly below these is the Southern Cross.

"If one is unable to find Corvus look directly south from Sirius to where Canopus shines, the second brightest star. From Canopus to the False Cross—so called from the fact that it is often mistaken for the real cross—is a fairly short distance, and a distance as far again will take one to the Southern Cross. If one sees it later in the night the bright stars Alpha and Beta Centauri will point to it from the other side.

"The constellation is really more like a large kite with a star at each of the four corners. The star to the south is of the first magnitude; the two to the north and east are of the second magnitude, and the one on the west is of the third.

"The Southern Cross received its name early in the 16th century. It came into prominence through the records of early American explorers."

Schofield Notes

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondent) SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, April 13.—The 1st Inf. was paid on Wednesday and the 32d Inf. on Thursday. This completes payment of all troops at Schofield Barracks for March.

The new quarters for the artillery which are under construction at Castle are progressing rapidly. These quarters are north of the 1st Inf. garrison and although the workmen have been at work but a short time already the foundations for the larger number have been constructed and if the material arrives as hoped, in a short time the lower garrison will be even larger than the upper garrison.

Practically the entire garrison was present at the commanding general's quarters at Schofield Barracks and many officers and ladies from all the army and navy posts in Oahu on Wednesday when Miss Margaret Treat and 1st Lieut. Archibald Vincent Arnold, 1st Field Artillery, were married. The ceremony was performed by Chaplain Ignatius Fealy, 1st Field Artillery.

Pursuant to instructions contained in letters from department headquarters and from telegrams from the war department schools for noncommissioned officers recently recommended for temporary commissions in case of war will be established at Schofield Barracks as follows: One regimental school, for each regiment of infantry and cavalry, one brigade school for the field artillery brigade, one adjutant general's department school, one signal corps school and one quartermaster corps school. The period of instruction will be daily except Sunday for not less than five hours and in addition two hours for study. All other instructions of whatever nature will be modified accordingly.

First Lieut. Harold Vanderveer, 1st Field Artillery, is designated as instructor for the signal corps school, in addition to his other duties.

Maj. Morton J. Heary, Q. M. C., is designated as instructor for the quartermaster school and is authorized to utilize the services of his assistants as he may find necessary.

According to instructions recently received from headquarters, a school for noncommissioned officers, who have been recommended for temporary commissions will be established at once and Maj. Rufus E. Longam, 32d Inf., has been appointed director with Capt. John D. Burnett, 32d Inf., as assistant director and 1st Lieut. Carl L. Cohen, 32d Inf., as secretary.

Col. William Snow, who sailed for the mainland on the last transport to join his new regiment, the 5th Field Artillery, found upon his arrival in San Francisco that his orders had been revoked and he had been transferred to the 4th Field Artillery. Also, the orders relating to Col. William E. McNair, 6th Field Artillery, who was to arrive on the next transport from the mainland to command the 1st Field Artillery, have been revoked and Col. McNair will not come to Oahu for the present.

Capt. John W. Simmons, Jr., 1st Inf., assigned, has been assigned to Co. H, 1st Inf. Capt. Simmons has just received his commission as a captain and when as a first lieutenant served in the 1st Inf.

A board of officers has been appointed to meet at Schofield Barracks after April 15 for the examination of such field officers as may be ordered before the board to determine their fitness for promotion.

Lieut. Col. Theodore N. Horn, 1st Field Artillery, has been relieved as surveying officer of the 1st Field Artillery and Maj. Fred T. Austin, 1st Field Artillery, has been detailed in his stead.

First Lieut. Clyde A. Selleck has been temporarily attached to Battery A, 9th Field Artillery, for duty.

Capt. Carl A. Truesdale, 25th Inf., has been appointed assistant fire marshal, Schofield Barracks, vice Maj. Hugh D. Wise, relieved.

Capt. John J. Boniface, 4th Cavalry, has been appointed fire marshal, Schofield Barracks, during the temporary absence of Capt. Conrad S. Babcock, 4th Cavalry.

COURSE IN HYGIENE IS GIVEN COMPANY F, N. G.

A course of camp sanitation and hygiene has been started by Lieut. Hopkins, Company F, National Guard, in order that the company may remain in good health when called into the field. The first lesson was given Tuesday night and, according to regular army men who were present, it is very complete and comprehensive. The services of a sergeant of the medical corps has also been secured to give instructions.

MOBILIZATION IS NEXT TOPIC AT OFFICER CLASS

Mobilization and its application to the National Guard of Hawaii if the citizen soldiery of the islands are ordered into the field, is to be the topic of instruction at the guard officers' class next Monday night.

The officers' class is now being held every Monday night with good results, as the subjects taken up by Col. R. C. Croxon, inspector and instructor of the guard, would be used daily when the regiment is called into the field.
